L O N D O N, Dec. 6.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague.

Several Letters from the North intimate its being greatly apprehend in that Part of the World, that France will take Advantage of the Death of the Empress of Russia, in order to execute the Project form'd in the last Diet of Sweden for recovering at least the Province of Carelia, and perhaps that of Livonia. It's certain that this Death could not have happened at a more unlucky Juncture, because of the approaching Assembly of the Diet. France it's but too well known will always have in it her Power, to stir up the Turk against Russia, as against the Queen of Hungary; and it's remark'd, that notwithstanding the very friendly Declarations of his most Christian Majesty to that Princess she is only treated at the Court of France as Archduchess; and that the French King has not yet own'd her Title of Queen of Hungary and Bohemia, nor acknowledged the Prince of Lichtenstein as Minister of those Crowns. — The Marquis de Fenelon perceiving that the sort of Manifesto publish'd by the Court of France, its immediately afterwards sending away the Squadron commanded by M. de Roquefeuille, and the other late Transactions of that Court, have given some Disgust here, has declar'd to the Members of the Regency, that this Squadron had Orders not to go out of the Port of Brest, if that under the Command of Sir Chaloner Ogle did not fail for America. That he could even assure them, that that which went before, under the Command of the Marquis d'Antin, would have been recall'd, if the Court of Great-Britain would have ever so little appear'd inclin'd to a reasonable Peace; but that the King's Master, justly incens'd at that Court's not vouchsafing to give an Answer to his former Declaration upon the Departure of his Squadrons, and having no room to doubt but that England would attempt, at least, to execute the great Designs she has form'd upon the Spanish West Indies, could not avoid augmenting with some Men of War the Squadron of the Marquis d'Antin, which was of itself too weak to make head against the English, in case these latter should think proper to commit Hostilities. — It's said that a Memorial is going to be publish'd in favour of the Elector of Bavaria. That the King of Poland Elector of Saxony, has been confirm'd in the Party of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, by an Assurance given him, that his Son shall inherit the Crown of Poland; and that the King of Prussia is likewise secur'd in his Interest, by being promis'd the Investiture of, and supported in his Pretensions to the Duchies of Juliers and Bergue.

Hague, Nov. 30. O. S. Letters from Madrid of the 4th Inst. advise, that Commodore Pizarro, who set sail from Sts Andro, some time since, with five or six Men of War, but was driven back to that Port by a Storm, has weigh'd Anchor again, and is gone to the West-Indies.

We hear from Paris, that a Report is spread there that the English have seiz'd one of the French King's Ships in America, which was employ'd in carrying Provisions from one Place to another: They add, that she was taken off the Coast of Hispaniola.

Paris, Dec. 12. Letters from Madrid say, that his Catholick Majesty was relaps'd of his late Illness, and remained in a very doubtful State of Health, and that his Physicians had held a Consultation thereupon.

They write from Cadix, that a Spanish Bercalunga has brought in there an English Ship bound for London, with Wine and other Goods, but that the Merchantman maintained a Dispute of half an Hour before she struck.

They write from Nuples, that his Majesty has ordered six new Men of War to be put on the Stocks, and has also given Directions to his Officers, to offer great Encouragement to all Artificers in the Ship building-way.

They write from Toulon, that Orders were given to fit out 12 more Men of War there, which were to be occasionally made use of, and that a considerable Number of Troops were to embark on board Transports at Marseilles.

Letters from Peterburgh import, that the Duke of Courland had sent a Letter to the Princess Anne, in very moving Terms, desiring to be released from his Confinement, upon Condition of his relinquishing all Pretensions to the Regency, but that 'twas very uncertain whether his Request would be complied with.

Genoa, Nov. 28. The Master of a French Vessel arriv'd at this Port from Toulon confirms, that there has been lately launch'd a Man of War of Eighty Guns. That very soon another of the same Burthen would also be launch'd there; and that they labour with the utmost Diligence to equip a strong Squadron. 'Tis said there are Eight Sail of Men of War ready to put to Sea.

They write from Marseilles, that throughout all Provence they are raising so many Sailors for the Service of the King, that the Merchants can scarcely get Hands to navigate their Ships.

Bristol, Dec. 6. Since my last came in the Vernon Privateer, Bonamy, from a Cruise; a rich Prize which she took, came in two Days before her. The Vernon has taken three small Settees, the most valuable Effects of which they secured, and then sunk them. After which they met with the above Prize off the Grand Canaries, which proves to be a Dutchman, laden with Ammunition for the Spaniards; she has also on board Thirty Cables and Anchors, and a rich Cargo of Silks, Cambricks, Lawns, &c. reckoned in the Whole worth between 18 and 20,000 l. There are seven Spaniards of Note on board, besides many common Men, who were taken out of the Settees, and are treated with such Humanity as becomes a Conqueror over a barbarous and unmerciful People, in a Manner destitute of Mercy when any of our Nation fall into their Hands. — The Prize was put under the Command of Mr. Read, the first Lieutenant of the Vernon, whose Conduct and Bravery, in Conjunction with that of the Captain's and Men, will be ever dear to their generous Merchants, who thus contribute their Endeavours towards protecting the Intitled Honour of the British Flag. The Prisoners in the said Prizes report, that a Month before they were taken seven Spanish Men of War sail'd from Teneriffe for Buenos Ayres.

The Humble ADDRESS of the House of Commons to the KING, on Thursday the 20th of November, 1740.

Most Gracious Sovereign,
WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great-Britain in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty on your safe and happy Return to these your Regal Dominions, and to return our sincere Thanks for your Majesty's most gracious Speech from the Throne.

Your faithful Commons, with Hearts full of Duty and Gratitude, cannot but acknowledge your Majesty's great Regard for the Honour and Interest of these Kingdoms, in equipping such strong Squadrons of Men of War, and embarking a Body of Land Forces, to be joined and strengthened by a considerable Number of your Majesty's Subjects raised in America, in order to carry on the War in those Parts in the most vigorous and effectual Manner.

We, at the same Time beg Leave to express our most dutiful Sense of your Majesty's Firmness and Resolution, in not suffering yourself to be diverted and deterred by any Incidents, from pursuing the just or vigorous Measures in which your Majesty is engaged for maintaining the Honour of the Crown, and the undoubted Rights of your People; and we assure your Majesty, that this House will stand by and support your Majesty against all Attempts made in Violation of the Faith of Treaties, or tending to prescribe or limit the Operations of War against your Majesty's declared Enemies.

Your dutiful and loyal Commons will, with the utmost Cheerfulness, grant your Majesty such effectual Supplies as shall be necessary, not only for carrying on the present War with Vigour, but also to put your Majesty in a Condition of being prepared for such Events as may arise from the new and uncertain State of Affairs in Europe.

Your Majesty's Tenderness and Concern for the Ease and Welfare of your Subjects, in recommending to the Consideration of Parliament the great Distress, that may arise, from the Scarcity of Corn, calls upon us in the strongest Manner to lose no Time in taking the most proper and effectual Methods of avoiding those great and dangerous Mischiefs, which so apparently threaten us, and of not suffering our Enemies to be supplied with any Kind of Provisions from any of your Majesty's Dominions.

We will also take such Measures, as shall be thought most reasonable and practicable, to enable your Majesty effectually to man your Royal Fleets, for the Defence of the Kingdom, for the Security of the Trade and Navigation of your Majesty's Subjects, and for carrying on the War with Vigour.

London, Dec 9 We hear that five Colonels of the Foot-Guards, three Lieutenant-Colonels of the Life Guards, and three out of the marching Regiments, are to have the eleven new Regiments to be rais'd.

On Saturday an Order of Council was publish'd, which exempts Ships laden, or to be laden, with Rice and Fish, from the Embargo laid on the 27th of November on all Vessels laden, or to be laden, with Provisions of Victuals, which Exemption has been made by his Majesty, in Consideration of the great Advantages that arise to this Kingdom from these valuable Branches of Commerce. The same Order likewise permits, that all Malt made for Exportation before the 6th of December, and duly certified to have been so, may, notwithstanding the Embargo, be exported.

'Tis said upwards of Three Hundred private Men will be prefer'd out of the Three Regiments of Foot Guards, to be Serjeants and Corporals in the new Regiments.

A large Quantity of Military Stores are order'd to be delivered out of the Ordnance Magazine at the Tower, and to be sent for the Island of Guernsey.
